R E P O R T

TO THE CONTRIBUTORS TO THE PENNSYLVANIA HOSPITAL.

THE business of the Pennsylvania Hospital has been carried on with so much uniformity that the close of the year now past leaves the Managers with little to report, save that its present condition for useful work continues to be of high order in all its Departments.

Since Fourth month, 1879, 1634 new patients have been received in the Pine Street Hospital, 1262 of whom were males and 372 females, including 650 cases of accidents occurring within twenty-four hours of their reception.

In the same time 1613 patients have been discharged cured or relieved, and there now remain 151 patients occupying beds in the wards.

Since the opening of this Hospital 102,124 cases, including 67,417 free patients, have been treated in its wards, exhibiting many wonderful applications of medical science brought to a successful issue.

The Pine Street Hospital is regularly visited by two attending Managers every Fourth-day morning. The accounts are then vouched and examined; the wards, closets, kitchens—in all its departments—made subject to inspection, and on the last Seventh-day in every month the roll of the patients is called in each ward by one of the attending Managers, and the presence of the patients as occupants of beds is verified.

The cost of maintenance of the Pine Street Hospital for the past year was $50,348.71.

The whole of the income of the Endowment Fund for the same time was $43,712.44.

It will be seen from this that the whole cash income of the fund created for Hospital purposes goes directly to the maintenance and care of the sick and wounded.

The Department for the Insane in West Philadelphia is usually self-sustaining, rarely receiving from the Treasurer more than the interest on funds specifically bequeathed for its support.

The fund derived from the sale of ground on Spruce Street, formerly owned by the Contributors, was applied to the purchase of the 113 acres of land in West Philadelphia, and the building of the Department for the Insane for Females. This property has greatly increased in value, and the estimated interest on that value is the only appropriation made from the Endowment for the Maintenance of the Insane. The building known as the Department for Insane Males, and the three buildings attached to the Department for Females, two of which are known as the Fisher Wards, are monuments of the charity of the Contributors for the special relief of the insane.

The forced ventilation of the Pine Street Hospital continues to be thoroughly successful, and is found to be very useful in the hot weather of summer by supplying fresh air, in addition to the service it performs in winter in securing an equable pleasant temperature in the wards. Our experience shows that to insure success the ventilating apparatus must be carefully watched, having regard at all times to external and internal temperature that extremes of heat and cold may be avoided in the wards, and a foul atmosphere apt to be noticed during the exposure and dressing of bad wounds may be speedily removed. The air of the wards is kept pure and healthful at all hours, and "Hospitalism," a malady supposed to owe its origin to impure air in wards where diseases are treated, is in the Pennsylvania Hospital unknown.

A work has recently been issued under the title of "Surgery in the Pennsylvania Hospital," in which many cases of happy results from skilful treatment are set forth. The production of this work by the labor of members of the Professional Staff, has been aided by the Board of Managers.

The Out-patient Department makes the following report:—

Surgical Department, new cases	2,929
" " visits	17,566
Medical Department, new cases	1,034
" " visits	2,200

With an average daily attendance of over 60 patients.

The Department for the Eye and Ear, which was added to the

Out-patient Department during the past year, reports from Eleventh month 19th, 1879, to Fourth month 23d, 1880, 72 cases of affections of the eye; 33 cases of affections of the ear; a total of 105 cases.

About 600 visits have been made, and there is an average daily attendance of 12 patients.

The Medical Library contains about 14,000 volumes, which are loaned to physicians under the Library rules, or consulted by them in the Library.

The working of the Out-patient Department, besides the relief it affords to a class of indigent patients not hitherto treated, frees the beds of the Hospital from many occupants that were formerly admitted, and also enables transfers to be made of convalescent patients whose increased health and vigor only require occasional attention to insure recovery.

One of the new features of our Hospital method is the introduction of a skilful trained female Superintendent and a corps of trained women nurses under her direction, into the Women's Department of the Pine-Street Hospital, which is now in the detail of its management entirely under their care. We believe we can with propriety say that in cleanliness, neatness, exactness of attention to all requirements, and careful tender attention to their surgical and medical patients, the duty performed is all that can be desired.

The clinical lectures during the past year were by order of the Board made free to all regular students of medicine.

The death of Dr. J. Aitken Meigs, for eleven years an attending physician, who has left a brilliant record as a teacher of eminence, character, and useful knowledge, has been felt as a loss to our Professional Staff, whose reputation he has long and faithfully maintained by his steady energetic service in the care of our patients.

---------------------------------	----------

We have also to aeknowledge valuable eontributions in apparatus from SAMUEL L. FOX and LOUIS B. KOLBE.

The walls surrounding the Hospital Square have been pointed and repaired.

Some diminution of cash reeeipts has been oeeasioned by the redution of the rates of interest upon the investments of our funds. The accounts of the Treasurer show a defieieney in the cash funds applicable to current expenses, notwithstanding some liberal contributions annually made for that purpose. It is hoped that voluntary contributions in aid of current expenses may enable us to meet this deficiency, which is one of the pressing necessities of your charity.

The affairs of the Department for the Insane will be set forth in the annual report of the Physician-in-Chief and Superintendent Dr. Thomas S. Kirkbride, the publication of which has been unavoidably delayed by his recent illness. To our great gratification we are happy to believe that he is promised a speedy restoration to health and to ability to resume his honorable labor.

This Department returns as now in its wards:—

Males	181
Females	198
Total	379

Patients admitted during the year:—

Males	114
Females	97
Total	211

Discharged during the year 232

The average number of free patients has been fifty-four, costing $23,919.40, and beside these a large number have been supported at less than the average cost per patient.

The expenditure for maintaining the Hospitals for the Insane was $151,817.31, from which it will be perceived that the maintenance of our patients is upon a liberal scale.

The Department for the Insane is visited every week by two Managers of the Board, all of whom in rotation perform the duty of inspection for two successive months of the year. On these visits accounts are examined and vouched, and on every alternate week one or other Department is visited throughout.

It is expected that every part of the Institution will at all times be open to the strictest scrutiny the inspecting manager may desire to give it.

In respect of quality and quantity of nutritious diet, healthful amusements, and inducement to recreative exercise in doors and out of doors, and the avoidance of the necessarily enforced restraint of private life, we believe your Institution offers extensive facilities, and attains a point of excellence not surpassed by any establishment of similar design. We are sometimes told that visits at irregular intervals would disclose breaches of points of good discipline deserving of attention, but the regular method prescribed by the Board is deemed best to secure the desired end, and does not preclude visiting or inspecting the several households at any time, and such visits of inspection at other than the appointed times are, in point of fact, frequently made, but any idea that it is necessary to a greater extent than it is now in the power of a Manager to make is more imaginary than real.

We think it also due to the cause of justice and truth for the Managers to state that for forty years each Department of the Hospital has been visited in each and every week; and in the past term of our own service we can vouch for the proper discharge of their duties by the officers, and for their careful humane treatment of their patients. Their labors in their vocation entitle them to be classed with those who deem nothing more honorable to men than the earnest effort to restore their afflicted fellow beings to health and happiness.

Fostered by the inconsiderate statements which find their way into the public papers, there has grown up a suspicion at least, if not a conviction in the minds of many worthy people, that there are a number of inmates of the various Hospitals for the Insane in this State who are without sufficient justification detained therein. The readiness with which such suggestions or charges are put forward shows the public sentiment to be alert, as it always ought to be, to investigate any exercise of power which touches the personal liberty of the citizen. But when so many safeguards are by the statutes of our States provided to prevent hasty or unjustifiable action, and when the acts of an institution (which can show so good a record as ours), or the careful administration on the part of its physicians or officers, are called in question, we do claim that until the contrary is shown by proper evidence, the presumption of right-thinking men ought to be in favor of there being sufficient cause for the detention of the patients, especially when we do court and have always freely courted inspection on the part of responsible and properly-authorized persons commissioned by the Legislature or the Judiciary.

The new ward for the Department for Females is under roof, the work and material, which has been paid for, has cost about $11,500. The flooring, plastering, painting, and furnishing have yet to be done.

In concluding, we desire to acknowledge the protection of Providence, which has through so many years bountifully blessed the work of your charity, and to express our trust that it may ever be upheld and cherished through a continuance of his mercy.

Signed by direction and on behalf of the Board of Managers.

WILLIAM BIDDLE, President.
